

Nude AWAKENING

A comedown from all the year-end partying, now's the perfect time to toss those heavy-handed cosmetics habits and go naked. Beauty is skin deep, so start off the season with the basics – perfect complexions and barely-there makeup.
Photographed by SKYE TAN. Styled by ALICIA TAN.

Photography Assistant ALICIA KOH Hair CELIA THAM / 8118 6923 Makeup DILY WANG / FACE BISTRO USING WATOSA COLOURS
Manicure JOYCE CHANG Model VASILISA/MANNEQUIN

GOLDEN AGE

A touch of gold on your eyes and lips is the fastest way to take your nude look from day to night. If you're up for a challenge, experiment with your gold cream shadow and create futuristic graphic shapes.

BROW DELIGHT

(OPPOSITE PAGE)
When it comes to the nude lip, forego the obvious heavy eye and go for strong brows instead. They frame the face and work like accessories – completing the look to perfection. In this case, use a brow brush and powder to thicken the brows and for a natural finish.

WOOD NYMPH

The easiest palettes for nailing the nude look are beiges and browns. To avoid looking too washed out, choose an eyeshadow base that has shimmer or bronze undertones and a creamy lipstick that's a shade paler than your natural lip colour.

SMOOTH OPERATOR

It's all about the glow when it comes to your skin taking centre stage. The key to a perfect complexion is to moisturise, moisturise, moisturise. This way, you wouldn't need to conceal imperfections, just dust on a bit of mineral loose powder and you're on your way to healthy, glowing skin.

PINK UP

(OPPOSITE PAGE)
Nude eyes are best complemented with a peachy blush and pink lip. Keep your brows natural with clear brow gel and slather on some eyelid base for a subtle sheen.